B. of H. says "Well wash you." Doctors say "You're ta-bu." Lightfoot says to "go-to!" And the people are all "huhu."

KAUAI'S "Big Four," if rumor is correct, is soon to be rendered asunder. Representative W. J. Sheldon is contemplating taking up his residence in the Kona District shortly, while Representative Geo. H. Huddy has decided to cast his lot with the inhabitants of the rainy city.

Big Four Asunder

The two chief directors of Hawaiian affairs, Governor Frear and Delegate Kuhio, are indulging in a past-time which is entirely unnecessary.

Tag-Playing

They should not forget that success is secured only through perfect harmony and that further "tag-playing" between the head men of the Territory will be the means of inviting public criticism.

The scene of action in the public school investigation on Hawaii, has shifted to the Hakalau side, Principal Capellas being the star actor.

In soliciting funds to be used in the defense of MacNamara, who is charged with the destruction of the Los Angeles Times building together with the lives of many innocent workmen, the American Federation is taking a step in the wrong direction if it desires to retain the prestige so necessary for the strengthening of its cause for which the labor unions are all struggling, namely—bettering the conditions of the laboring class.

Every individual who lends his aid towards freeing a self-confessed criminal, to a man who confesses to having taken the lives of men upon whom mothers, wives and children depended for their very existence, becomes an accomplice in such a murder to that degree to which he or she contributes to his defense.

Organized labor, under judicious management, is, and always will be, the salvation of the laboring class. It is an absolute necessity as a protection against the organization of capital, yet there should be no organization so bereft of the idea of justice as to knowingly lend its aid to one of its members who confesses to complicity in one of the most cold-blooded crimes in the history of Los Angeles. Let justice prevail.

In describing a popular soprano, an exchange says: "This wonderful little soprano has a voice of fine timber, a willowy figure, cherry lips, chestnut hair, and hazel eyes."

She must have been raised in some lumber region.

Small Farmer Forecast
It was the busy hour of 4. When from a city hardware store emerged a gentleman who bore, 1 hoe, 1 spade, 1 wheelbarrow.

From thence our hero promptly went.

Into a seed establishment. And for these things his money spent:
1 peck of bulbs,
1 job lot of shrubs,
1 quart of assorted seeds.He has a garden under way. And if he's fairly lucky, say, He'll have about the last of May,
1 squash vine,
1 egg plant,
1 radish.The Charge Of
The Tight BrigadeHalf a leg, half a leg,
Half a leg onward!

All in Present style hobbled the 400. Forward the Tight Brigade; Charge, its the style, they said; Oh, what a price they paid, hobbled 400!

Forward the Tight Brigade—was there a man dismayed

At wifey so arrayed? Someone had blundered.

Their's not to make reply, their's not to reason why,

Their's but to see and buy, fumbling 400!

Hobbles to right of them, hobbles to left of them,

Hobbles all sides of them! What if they sundered?

Maude, Bessie, Kit and Nell, wrapped like an umbrella,

Should one have tripped and fell She would have looked like —

well, less than 400!

Flashed all her curves so rare, Flashed, yes; and bulged! — so there

All but the SKINNY ones, while the world wondered.

Some couldn't stand the strain, Some—yes, some—shrunk with rain,

So now they're on the wane; Gone is the hobbler day.

Hoop-skirts are next, they say, Fickle 400!

When can their glory fade, Oh, what a stir they made; all the world wondered.

What more could be displayed? Dear, Naughty Tight Brigade,—

Dear Old Four Hundred! —Ex.

CALIFORNIA is keeping up to her reputation as one of the greatest fruit belts in the world this year by marketing her crop of cherries at $10.00 per pound and unloading the bulk of her grape crop at $20.00 per ton.

THE point taken by the officers of the Kauai Athletic Association in regard to prohibiting any players from betting on the games, is well taken and will have a tendency to preserve clean sport.

Now its smallpox,—"Oh, you Honolulu."

The disregard shown by certain Honolulu citizens for the city ordinance regarding Board of Health regulations, is in keeping with the spirit of cussedness which prevails to such an extent as to hamper all attempts to protect Honolulu's citizens from the ravages of an epidemic. The defiance of the law by two of Honolulu's leading citizens in this instance, is of sufficient gravity to justify a severe penalty as an example to any who might feel inclined to "follow suit." There is always some pin-headed individual who feels it incumbent upon himself to get into the lime-light on these occasions, regardless of subsequent results, being satisfied with the cheap notoriety gained through any old agency he may employ to accomplish this aim.

THE fact that quite a number of the residents of Lihue has been placed on the sick list from eating canned goods from tins that were swollen, should be a lesson to those who find it necessary to purchase tinned goods. Any merchant who would knowingly attempt to palm off this class of goods on a customer, should be boy-cotted. The danger of getting such goods will be considerably lessened by purchasing groceries from some reputable house which is known to handle fresh goods.

Hilo Teachers
Play Hooky

Hilo May 9th.

It is hard to be a teacher. If you don't get into trouble with the Honolulu authorities, you stand a good chance of being pursued by those in authority here. The world is full of trouble for the pedagogues.

The Hilo Teachers' Union held its regular meeting at the Hilo Boarding School last Friday. The rule is that teachers may close school on the day on which the meeting is held, provided they attend the meeting. As a consequence some eighty teachers from near and far showed up last Friday morning. However, after a while a recess was taken, during which the usual stunt of seeing bananas, taro and other growing things on the Boarding School grounds was indulged in. The opportunity to escape unnoticed proved too much of a temptation for a number of foxy teachers, who thought that this was the chance for strategically effacing themselves and thus escape the rest of the evening.

But vengeance was at hand, for so many teachers had made the sneak that the thinning of the ranks was very noticeable, when the teachers finally resumed their meeting. An actual count showed that just about half of the pedagogues had disappeared, and when Supervising Principal McClusky called for another reading of the roll call, during which he took note of the names of the absentees, there was some tall thinking done. It is now a matter of some interest in the circles pedagogical just what McClusky, who is not to be fooled with in matters of this kind, will do.

The matter of whether the meetings of the Union should be held on Friday or on Saturday was also taken up, some one placing in the "question box" a slip asking why school time should be "wasted" by holding the meetings on Friday. This Friday-Saturday question has on several previous occasions proved a good trouble-getter in Union meetings, and this time it produced about the usual effect, and some one waxed acrimonious, opining that any teacher who thought that the time spent in the Union meetings was "wasted" was a poor specimen of the craft. As usual, the discussion petered out without any action being taken.

The program which had been outlined for the meeting, was of necessity some what cut short owing to the unavoidable absence of some of the leading performers. Thus Mrs. Lewis and those of her musical associates who were to have provided the musical numbers, failed to perform, though Miss Potter and Miss Jean Chalmers filled up the gap by rendering several excellent piano selections. Then the Kaiwika school was down for a chapter on the program relating to specific aims for children's study, but as this school has also been closed, for reasons somewhat similar to those alleged in the high school affair, this part of the program was also cut out.
